

PRESS RELEASE

QUEST Investment Partners opens Berlin office

Hamburg, 27 June 2017. The Hamburg-based project development and investment company Quest Investment Partners opened a new office in Berlin in mid-June 2017. The office on Friedrichstraße will be headed by Arne Siemens, who most recently served as project leader at Art-Investment Real Estate, overseeing the 30,000 m² shopping and office project on Alter Wall in Hamburg.

“Berlin’s rental market for office properties is developing in very dynamic ways. We anticipate opportunities for further projects and aim to develop high-end commercial properties in prime locations, just as we do in Hamburg,” states Jan Rouven Künzel, Managing Partner at Quest Investment Partners.

Arne Siemens has long-standing experience in project management. At Art-Invest Real Estate GmbH, he was in charge of numerous sales and acquisitions in addition to managing real estate development projects in Hamburg and Berlin. Arne Siemens studied international project management with a focus on real estate projects and started his career at ECE Projektmanagement GmbH in transaction management. Aged 30, he is responsible for new business, project development and management in Berlin, where he will be supported by a further employee.

Quest Investment Partners was founded in 2016 and has since developed seven projects in Hamburg, some of which are already being re-sold.
